Wick, Doynton,
Dyrham and Hinton

April 2021

Hope of better things to come.

There are times when we don't realise how much we value something until we haven't got it.

Several times since moving to Wick I have locked myself out of our home. You can hold a key in the palm of your hand and never give it a thought till it is on the wrong side of a locked door. Then you are stuck. Everything you want is on the other side of the door and you can't get it till, in my case, my wife comes home, or thankfully a neighbour can help me.

Over a year ago the Covid pandemic spread round the world like a cloak of darkness, taking from us our most basic need to show compassion and love through human touch. We have been separated by closed doors, by masks, or at best by a two-meter gap. We have hated it and discovered how much we value human contact. A handshake, a hug, a touch on the arm, or just to walk alongside and share time is far more valuable than we ever realised.

There are other ways in which we can separate ourselves from each other. We can hold anger and bitterness that builds walls between us. We can be too focused on our work or our leisure activities to give time to the person who can be in the same room but may as well be a hundred miles away. We can hold prejudices that separate. In reaction we should affirm that, Black lives matter, the LGBTQ+ community matter, the rights and respect of women matter...

So much can separate us but there is hope of a new dawn if we would learn what to value. We are made in the image of God who values us as friends. At Easter we remember, "There is no greater love than to lay down one's life for one's friends." In love for us Jesus was crucified. He took what separates us, paid the price, and defeated it. He died, but three days later Jesus rose again victorious over death, giving us hope of better things to come, even of life after death.

Faith in him gives us purpose and meaning and hope for a better world. I pray we will learn what to value and step forward into better things with God's help.

God bless you

News from St Bartholomew's

This month we have some very sad news - one of our stalwart members, much loved and long serving, has left us. Brian Mumford has been an integral part of this church for so long, that it seems impossible to imagine it without him. Over the last few months, as Brian became progressively more poorly, we realised just how much he and Monica were responsible for. SO many people have said "Oh, Brian takes care of that" or "We should ask Brian" almost daily! He will be very much missed.

My own little Venn diagram of "Things that happen in Church/Things that I am involved with/Things that Brian and Monica organise" has a massive overlap, including; the choir - Brian has been with us in spirit for a while, and it is not the same without him; Open Door - my Mum used to enjoy the outings very much, which Brian and Monica organised so well it looked effortless, and he was always very appreciative whenever I did the Thought For The Day (he could also be relied upon to produce a Thought For The Day at a moment's notice, if the person doing it did not turn up - quite a skill!); Intercessory Prayers - his prayers were always meaningful and thought provoking, and he kept an extremely useful book of Intercessions tucked in his choir stall, which meant if one were asked to do them at short notice, he was the person one turned to; and of course, the magazine - I still consider myself Brian's Assistant, he was SO helpful and a source of much information and experience when I took on the editing, and he and Monica were responsible for all of the distribution/delivery side of things. But there were lots of other jobs that Brian took on that had nothing to do with me - he liaised with the Vicar and the Organist to choose the hymns every week, for instance. His voice on our PCC was always one of thoughtfulness and care. Between them, he and Monica, quietly beaver away, kept the church running smoothly for many, many years. His massive experience, particularly of being Churchwarden and PCC member, and his quiet, but very deep, faith benefited all of us, in many different ways.

Our hearts go out to Monica, and all the family. He was so proud of them all. I still remember the look of such love and pride on his face as his two smallest grandsons charmed the entire congregation one day; he attempted to be nonchalant about it, but failed miserably. It was also very noticeable when he talked about any of his family, every time! We shall miss his wisdom and counsel.

Doynnton Parish Pump

Spring is springing, more and more of us are getting our first COVID vaccinations, and life is looking up a bit at last. We look forward to seeing everyone out and about in the village as the weather improves.

Holy Trinity Church: on Easter Sunday, April 4th, there will be simultaneous services at Doynnton, Dyrham and Wick at 10 a.m., with social distancing and careful adherence to Government guidelines. The three churches will then host services every week in turn, with the first being Café Church at Doynnton on Sunday April 11th, 10 a.m

Doynnton and Wick WI is continuing to meet online for the time being. The speaker for April is Gilly Montgomery on the new and emerging style of working from home and in the community. The weekly WI Zoom chats take place on Wednesdays at 2 p.m. If any members do not receive their link by email, they are invited to contact the President, Tina Holbrook, at [Tinaholbrook\[at\]aol.co](mailto:Tinaholbrook[at]aol.co)

The Seed Swap, which took place over three weeks from February 13th in the church porch raised £20.80, which has been donated to North Bristol foodbank. From what one could surmise from the amount of seed that disappeared and seed that was swapped, or money donated, and some appreciative feedback, it seems to have been a successful event, attended and enjoyed by many. We very much hope to bring it back next year as a more sociable event in the village hall, if covid rules allow. Many thanks to all who contributed.

Many thanks to all the villagers who have offered their services to help their neighbours – details below. Contact the Doynnton Mutual Aid Group at doynntonvillage@live.co.uk to join the WhatsApp group, stay informed and get access to help within the village.

Doynnton foodbank: villagers have donated a number of food items which can be found in a box in the church porch; please feel free to help yourself if you are in need. Also a big thank you for your continued support for North Bristol Foodbank, which is needed now more than ever. Please leave any tins or packets you can spare in the box in the church porch (please make sure they are at least three months within their use-by date).

Dates for your diary April 3rd and 17th and May 1st: 10.00–11:00 a.in the village hall: Doynnton Village Market: for locally produced vegetables, eggs, meat, fish, baked produce and more. Please adhere to social distancing and wear a mask, unless exempted. Contact Elizabeth Crew on 0117 937 3168 by Wednesday to reserve your goods.

More reminiscences of the Second World War, this time from David Vaudrey:

The night the bomb fell – When my father was posted from Larkhill, near Salisbury, to Malta in 1940, our family moved to Ferndown, a sprawling village surrounded by heathland, between Ringwood, Wimborne and Bournemouth. In 1944 the household comprised my mother, my brother Denis, then aged 16, our nanny, Cissie, and my twin sister, Gillian and myself, aged nine. Our other brother, Derek, 20, was away, having joined the Royal Artillery, his father's regiment.

On April 23rd that year, St. George's Day, I woke up in the night feeling as if someone had tipped a bucket of gravel over me. Cissie came into our room and told me to get dressed. In the dark, I put both feet down one leg of my short trousers so I wasn't able to walk properly and, later, when my mother saw me hobbling, she thought I had been badly injured. Cissie led us downstairs.

My mother had woken up hearing thumps on the roof. Thinking there might be incendiary bombs up there, she went downstairs to wake Denis with a view to putting out fires with the pathetic little stirrup pump that all households were issued with. As she reached his room the bomb exploded. Plaster fell from the walls and ceilings, filling the floors with rubble. The staircase was like a scree and she could not climb back up. My sister and I sheltered under the dining room table until the danger seemed to have passed and then beds were made for us on the sofa and armchairs.

In the morning we saw that the bomb had landed in the lane leading to the house, leaving an enormous crater and cutting off the water and electricity. The house was in a dreadful state; it had been built using lime mortar and many of the bare walls bulged dangerously, still with pictures hanging from the rails. I don't remember feeling in the least frightened – in fact, it was all rather exciting.

Gillian and I were taken to stay with friends for a few days before being taken by Denis by train to stay with an aunt near Manchester, on his way back to school. As we were away for three months, we attended a school there for a term. By the time we got back, my mother had rented a bungalow where we stayed for about a year while the house was being repaired. We all went back to the house each day to look after the chickens and the ducks that my mother kept.

Wick WI Anthea Watts writes:

In February, following the business, Philomena did some exercises from the chair for us via Zoom which was enjoyed by all.

In March, Julian Bird, who is an Executive Producer for the Olivier Awards gave a talk on his work in the theatre as Chief Executive of the Society of London Theatre

Future events on Zoom:

As the speaker booked for 22 April has unfortunately cancelled, this will be replaced by a Members meeting with a raffle and a chat.

On 27 May our speaker will be a local writer, Emily Koch, who is based in Bristol. Emily is sure to provide members with an interesting talk on how she got her first book published.

It is hoped that by June some restrictions will have been lifted and we can organise some walks for our members. For meetings after then, watch this space!

If you fancy coming along to one of our meetings, you would be most welcome and find it an enjoyable experience. If you would like a chat with our President, Wendy Hayes, she would be happy to talk to you.

Ken Miller, 1933 to 2020

Ken Miller lived in Wick for many years with his wife Audrey and their two daughters, Sharon and Helen. The family attended Wick Church and Ken was a churchwarden for a number of years. Ken and Audrey moved to Gloucester on their retirement to be near family. Audrey and the family have let us know that Ken passed away peacefully in hospital on 7 December 2020. Please pray for them at this sad time. Thank you.

Wick & Abson Parish Council

We would like to say a very big “Thank You” to Wick Community Tree Group for all their hard work and continuing efforts to plant trees throughout the village. This is an extremely valuable project, helping to improve our village on many levels. (See <https://onetreeplanted.org/pages/why-trees>) for just some of the reasons why.

We also want to acknowledge the sterling work being done by the local residents who are picking and clearing litter. Keeping the village clean and tidy may only seem like a small thing, but the impact is huge: studies have shown that litter is an indicator of poor local care, which can lead to graffiti, which in turn leads to anti-social behaviour, and from there to increased crime levels. (See <https://www.keepbritaintidy.org/faqs/advice/litter-and-law>)

So very many thanks for all your hard work, what you are doing is invaluable!

Don't forget the Easter Trail round the village - page 11 has details

Friends of Wick Golden Valley Nature Reserve

You might have seen some work going on in the nature reserve this past month. The local council have sent in some contractors to fell some dangerous Ash trees suffering from ash dieback, and following our usual annual coppicing cycle. (see <https://ashdieback.co.uk/>)

The Friends Group have been applying for funding to help fund future projects in the nature reserve and the ongoing maintenance cycle.

We are currently meeting via Zoom on the last Thursday of each month. Please come and join us for our next meeting, we need more local people to join the team and represent the views from people in the village about what happens to this most valuable of habitats and community spaces.

Please contact us via our Facebook Page @wickgoldenvalley listed as: Wick Golden Valley Local Nature Reserve for details on how to join the meeting.

We looking forward to welcoming new members to the group.

Plans to turn a former quarry into an outdoor activity centre are set to be discussed by South Gloucestershire Council.

The proposals which, if passed, would see Wick quarry host activities such as paddle boarding, kayaking, archery and axe throwing.

A launch platform and floating pontoons would also be built, to allow the lake to become an open water swimming centre.

A change of use application has been submitted for the site, by UK Active Outdoors, in partnership with Battle Archery.

The plans have attracted 118 comments, with some people raising concerns around traffic management and access issues.

If the proposals get the go ahead, the outdoor centre could open this summer.

To see the details, go to:

<https://developments.southglos.gov.uk/online-applications/applicationDetails.do?keyVal=QMM0H7OK02R00&activeTab=summary>

You can make comments on that page, to let the council know your opinion.

Dyrham & Hinton Diversions

Women's Institute

At our March zoom meeting retired Detective Superintendent Julie Mackay provided a compelling account of her career as a police officer. Her frank description of her journey from probationary constable to senior investigating officer, overseeing numerous serious crimes whilst juggling her family life to raise 3 teenage children as a single parent was remarkable. She is now involved in charity work with the Divinity Foundation helping young women in Africa and has made a podcast "Catching Melanie's Killer" which is a gripping description of a cold case review into a Bath murder that led to a race against time to convict the murderer.

Future 2021 virtual members zoom meetings (2ndThursday evening every month) with guest speakers will be:

April: Dr Andy Heavyside, critical care rapid response volunteer doctor for Bristol based charity Bravo Medics (rescheduled 15th April '21)

May: Local apiarist Neil Hewitt introducing us to the world of bee-keeping.

June: Kerry Scolah, award winning Gloucestershire based Magician and one of only 20 female members of the Inner Magic Circle. Kerry will host a magic zoom show with a short talk about the Magic Circle.

July: WI Alfresco Summer Party – COVID regulations permitting.

August: Guided walk starting and ending at the Bull Inn, Hinton.

The WI Book Club is currently reading "The Thursday Murder Club" by Richard Osman and the next zoom meeting is scheduled for 6thApril @ 7pm.

We welcome new members. Ladies can attend up to 2 initial WI meetings without any joining obligations. Additionally, we run several open meetings for the community to attend. If you are interested in attending any of the above meetings via Zoom then please contact us.

For more information please contact dyrhamandhintoncommitteewi@gmail.com or visit our website: <https://www.dyrhamandhintonwi.co.uk>

Boyd Valley Painting Group

The Boyd Valley painting group consists of a small band of like-minded amateur artists who meet once a week, (when Covid restrictions allow), at the Dyrham and Hinton village hall on a Thursday morning from 10.00am until 1.00pm. If you would like more information please call Andrew Hedges 01179372928. As soon as Covid restrictions are lifted and normal classes resume existing members will be advised by email with a further notice appearing in the next issue of the Parish Magazine.

Illegal Hare Coursing

Incidents of hare coursing have recently been observed on farmland adjoining Burbarrow Lane in Hinton. Hare coursing is an illegal bloodsport where dogs (typically lurchers) are used to chase, catch and kill hares. If you see hare coursing taking place, you should contact the police on 101. Hare coursers should not be approached as they can turn violent. However, if it is safe to do so, a note should be taken of any details which may be of use to the police e.g. number/description of men and dogs involved and the number plates of any vehicles suspected of belonging to the coursers. Vehicles used will be estate cars, four wheel drives or vans. If firearms are visible, please dial 999.

Reverend William Langton Trust

The Reverend William Langton Trust is a charity established for the benefit of the residents of the parish of Dyrham & Hinton. The Trust's aims are to:

1. Provide assistance with the costs of education for young people under the age of 18 (such as school uniform, books or school trips).
2. Provide support to people aged 18 and over to assist with the purchase of tools, clothing or other relevant expenses incurred in support of further studies, training or work-based learning (such as text books, field trips or equipment).

Previous applications have included university course books, a contribution to an interview suit, and contributions for equipment for college music and photography courses. We welcome applications for grants.

Please understand that the charity has limited funds and may only be able to provide a contribution towards an application. For an application form please contact Dorothy Miller, who will also be able to advise on any questions or the suitability of an application. Tel No. 0117 9373333.

Please send any contributions for the next Dyrham & Hinton Diversions to Angela Griffiths (angela.dahparishnews@gmail.com) by 18th April.

News from the Chapel

All is quiet at the Chapel but behind the scenes we are keeping in touch. Some of us are zooming a Lent Course with our Anglican friends and Reverend James also shares a Lent lesson.

It was prior to Mothering Sunday last year, when the first lockdown came that we presented our fellowship with daffodils, little did we know then that we would be repeating it again this year. However, we did and it was good to see friends and speak – at a distance. It will also be a second Easter without a service. We will miss our Good Friday service led by Reverend Adrian Phippen and once more that flower-filled cross will not feature on our war memorial on Easter Sunday telling us that 'Christ is Risen'.

The good news is that we will open the doors of Tabernacle on Sunday 18th April and welcome everyone back to a socially distanced, half an hour service, wearing masks but eager to worship together again. This service will be our monthly sharing time with thoughts from our members and prayers. Do join us – we would love to welcome you.

When things are back to near normal, we hope to hold a Cream Tea afternoon with stalls and a raffle to recoup some of the lost funds from last year as we missed out on much needed income from the Christmas Sale. We were also unable to hold the annual fund-raising event in aid of Ovarian Cancer (in memory of Monica Knight). The proceeds from the afternoon event will be shared between the two charities. More details next month .

Don't forget to contact Margaret Jones on 01179372503 or Sue Hickmore 01179374396 if you need a book from our large supply of fiction and non-fiction and we have several jigsaws.

We wish you all a Happy Easter.

As a sign of life beginning to return to something close to normal, we are starting to think about those jobs that we used to do before "Lockdown" and "Covid pandemic" became part of our everyday vocabulary. As restrictions lift we begin to emerge, blinking into the sunlight, and cry "Who's doing the readings on Sunday?"

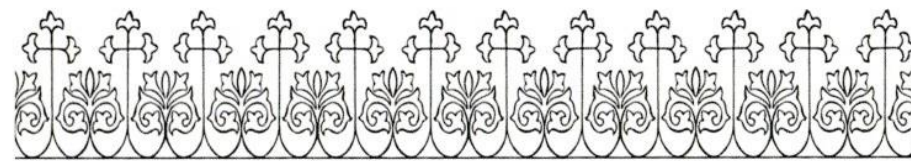

If those of you responsible for creating the rotas for Doynton, Dyrham and the Chapel would like the details here, please email them to wickparishmagazine@outlook.com. Hopefully, this will give Monica Mumford some peace at this difficult time. It's probably the last thing on her mind at the moment.
